Approaching the altar at communion, please follow the directions of the sidespersons up the right hand aisle (rather than the centre steps) then proceed to the next space to the left. Return to the pews down the left hand steps.

Gluten-free Communion wafers are available on request

The Order of Service for the Eucharist commences at Page 119 of the green 'A Prayer Book for Australia.' The readings and hymn numbers for today will be found in this pew bulletin.

Introit: Litany for Lent (Hearken O Lord have mercy upon us)

Entry Hymn: 7 Praise to the living God

Sentence: “This is the covenant I will make with them.” says the Lord God: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts; and I will be their God and they shall be my people.” Jeremiah 31.33

Collect:

O God, our Redeemer,
in our weakness we have failed
to be your messengers of forgiveness and hope;
renew us by your Holy Spirit,
that we may follow your commands
and proclaim your reign of love;
through Jesus Christ our Lord,
who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever. Amen..

A reading from the book of the prophet Jeremiah

(Jeremiah 31.31-34)

The days are surely coming, says the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah. It will not be like the covenant that I made with their ancestors when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt—a covenant that they broke, though I was their husband, says the Lord. But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the Lord: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. No longer shall they teach one another, or say to each other, ‘Know the Lord’, for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest, says the Lord; for I will forgive their iniquity, and remember their sin no more.

For the word of the Lord thanks be to God

Psalms 119:9-16

9 How shall a young man's | path be | pure:
un|less he | keep to-your | word?
10 I have sought you with my | whole | heart:
let me not | stray from | your com|mandments.
11 I have treasured your | words • in my | heart:
that I | might not | sin a|gainst you.
12 Blessed are | you Lord | God:

O | teach me | your | statutes.

13 With my lips I | have been | telling:
all the | judgements | of your | mouth;
14 And I find more joy in the way of | your com|mands:
than in | all | manner • of | riches.
15 I will meditate | on your | precepts:)
and give | heed | to your | ways;
16 For my delight is wholly | in your | statutes:

A reading from the letter of Paul to the Hebrews (Hebrews 5.5-14)

So also Christ did not glorify himself in becoming a high priest, but was appointed by the one who said to him, ‘You are my Son, today I have begotten you’; as he says also in another place, ‘You are a priest for ever, according to the order of Melchizedek.’ In the days of his flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications, with loud cries and tears, to the one who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverent submission. Although he was a Son, he learned obedience through what he suffered; and having been made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him, having been designated by God a high priest according to the order of Melchizedek.

About this we have much to say that is hard to explain, since you have become dull in understanding. For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic elements of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food; for everyone who lives on milk, being still an infant, is unskilled in the word of righteousness. But solid food is for the mature, for those whose faculties have been trained by practice to distinguish good from evil.

.For the word of the Lord thanks be to God

A Reading from the Gospel according to John (John 12.20-33)

□ Glory to you Lord Jesus Christ

Now among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greeks. They came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and said to him, 'Sir, we wish to see Jesus.' Philip went and told Andrew; then Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus. Jesus answered them, 'The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. Very truly, I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains just a single grain; but if it dies, it bears much fruit. Those who love their life lose it, and those who hate their life in this world will keep it for eternal life. Whoever serves me must follow me, and where I am, there will my servant be also.

Whoever serves me, the Father will honour.

'Now my soul is troubled. And what should I say—"Father, save me from this hour"? No, it is for this reason that I have come to this hour. Father, glorify your name.' Then a voice came from heaven, 'I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again.' The crowd standing there heard it and said that it was thunder. Others said, 'An angel has spoken to him.' Jesus answered, 'This voice has come for your sake, not for mine. Now is the judgement of this world; now the ruler of this world will be driven out. And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to myself.' He said this to indicate the kind of death he was to die.

This is the Gospel of the Lord. Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

GEORGE WILLIAM KITCHIN wrote "Lift High the Cross" in 1887. Kitchin was born to a minister in Naughton, Suffolk, England. He attended King's College School and King's College. Later, he attended Christ Church College in Oxford, England, where he took a Double First in Classics and Mathematics in 1850.

In 1854, Kitchin was an examiner in Mathematics. He married in 1863, and then served as Oxford's first Censor of non-collegiate students from 1868 to 1883. In 1883 he became Dean of Winchester, and he went on to become the Dean of Durham in 1894. Four years before his death, in 1908, he was appointed as Chancellor of Durham University.

MICHAEL R. NEWBOLT (1874-1956) was born in Dymock, Gloucestershire, England. Educated at St. John's College, Oxford, and ordained an Anglican priest in 1900. Vicar of St. Mary's in Affley, he was principal of the Missionary college in Dorchester. He later served churches in Brighton and Chester. He is best known for his 1916 alteration of George Kitchin's hymn, "Lift High the Cross", which was included in HYMNS ANCIENT AND MODERN and became the definitive version of that hymn..
